Andwise co-brand license

Prepared for a GME office, residency program, medical school or specialty society. These terms are identical to the online version at www.joinandwise.com/company/co-brand-license.

What a co-brand license is

A co-brand license grants the right to embed Andwise widgets and figures on an institution's own pages, with the institution's name rendered in the widget footer. The tools stay exactly as published: same text, same data, same claims, and the same free access for everyone else.

What it includes

The right to embed /embed/noncompete, /embed/loans-worth and the figures under /figures on the licensee's own pages for one year. The name, "Distributed by {name}", in the widget footer, read from the ?via= URL parameter. A signed copy of these terms. Only a licensee may put its name in ?via=.

Price

$500 per residency program per year, or $1,500 per sponsoring institution per year, invoiced annually. The price covers the permission and the naming line.

What the licensee may not do

Modify the tools' text, data or claims, or host modified copies. Resell the license or charge others to embed. Remove the Andwise attribution, the CC BY 4.0 line, or the "Information, not advice" line from the footer. Present the tools as contract review, legal review or legal advice. Add sponsor, lender or employer framing around an embed.

Term and voiding

One year from signature. The license voids automatically if the licensee changes the tools' text or adds sponsor framing. Any other breach of the limits above lets Andwise end it by written notice.

What Andwise provides and does not

Andwise keeps the widgets, figures and cited data current, re-reading cited sources on a published schedule and logging each correction with its date. The data is published under CC BY 4.0, each entry carrying its source and check date; the citation form is at www.joinandwise.com/data. Andwise provides no usage reports. The widgets set no cookies; the site may count requests by page and ?via= name, with no IP address or cookie attached. Andwise builds no private URLs or dashboards. It compiles its published pages into a packet carrying a program's name and state, with the text, data and citations unchanged; the packet is quoted separately.

Why the name reads "Distributed by"

The name must not read as an endorsement in either direction. "Distributed by" states that the institution shares the tool, without implying it authored or vouches for the legal content. Neither side may add claims the tools cannot substantiate.

To inquire

Email programs@joinandwise.com with the institution name and the page where the widgets would be hosted. The one-page brief for a compliance reviewer is at www.joinandwise.com/company/for-programs.
